STOCKS ARE HIGHER

Yesterday's Advances Ranged from 1-8 to 2 3-4 Per Cent.

Speculators Thought the Situation at Washington Was Favorable to Repeal of the Silver Act.

At New York yesterday money on call being made at 11/2, closing offered at 11/2 per

The clearing-house committee of the New York associated banks has leased vaults in the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company in which will be stored the gold received on balances daily. Against this gold will be issued clearing-house gold certificates for circulation among the banks only, and which will be included in calculating the reserves in the weekly bank statement. The total sales of stocks yesterday were 152,000 shares. On the Exchange yesterday the speculation was almost featureless and the dealings were on a very small scale. The only time when the market could be called at all active was shortly after 2 o'clock, and even then the transactions were mostly confined to a few shares. The street is in a state of expectancy on the silver question, and operators are not disposed to buy or sell very largely pending the settlement of the Washington situation, which speculative interests affect to believe is rapidly coming near. After a weak opening prices took an upward turn and quickly recovered the early losses, the mar-ket becoming firm. There was a fairly steady trading for about an hour, when a reactionary movement was inaugurated, which carried values down, the early improvement being lost and a fractionally lower range of figures being established before noon. During the next two hours the traders engaged in an uninteresting contest for points, the fluctuations being narrow and the volume of business light. After delivery hour the temper of the speculation underwent a change, and for a while there was a brisk market. The short interest undertook to do some covering and purchases were made for the long account on reports from Washing-ton that a plan had been agreed upon to bring the silver Senators to a vote. Under the influence of this buying the market took an upward turn, and the best prices of the day were touched. The improvement was well maintained to the close, the general list closing at or near the best prices of the day, with gains, as compared with the sales of yesterday, of 2% per cent. in Pullman, 2 in Canada Southern, 1% in B. & O. and United States Rubber, 1½ in Consolidated Gas, Lake Shore, Cotton Oil, preferred, Consolidated Fuel and Iron and New York, Chicago & St. Louis, 14 in Northwestern, 1 in Missouri Pacific and Rock Island, and 4 per cent. in C., B. & Q., Western Union and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg. The rest of the list showed advances of 1/40% per cent., with some few exceptions in which declines were recorded, the greatest being 1 per cent., United States Bubber, preferred, and New York Northern, preferred Chicago Gas Erie, Louisville and

LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE. Trade More Quiet, with Few Changes in Values.

On the wholesale streets trade continues to be spasmodic in its character, two or three busy days being followed by a quiet business; only in the wholesale grocery line is the business of this month comparing favorably with that of last year. In prices there were but few changes yesterday. On Commission row, in all lines the tendency is to lower prices. The trade of this month thus far has been 25 per cent, below that of September. Poultry, eggs, butter and provisions all carry an easy tone, with lower rather than higher prices indicated.

The local grain market is a little more active. Little is said about wheat, but corn and oats are in good request at the following range of prices track:

WHEAT MANIPULATED

Elevator Men Bought Heavily and Scared the Bears.

Prices Forced Up 1-2c for Both December and May-Corn, Oats and Provisions Also Advanced.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.-Elevator people who have 21,000,000 bushels of wheat sold for December delivery and have it on hand were to-day, it is said, in the market laying their plans for getting and keeping the whole pile from December to May. The assertion is made that their buying of December worked up the crowd, and the May was sold while the market was on the boil. Although May and December areonly at 74c spread, which would scarcely pay 6 per cent. on the money for carrying, by adroitly working the market 8c premium or more is alleged to be secured. Corn and oats were strong and provisions firm, with everything higher at the close.

The wheat market certainly seemed to turn as much on manipulation as on the news. Apparently the bear plungers had things all fixed for a break following the opening. The price started 4c lower, but struck a snag. Armour, Lynn, Weare and other elevator people were buyers. The scalpers who rushed to sell first had to cover a few minutes later. Then the Pardridge-Leaming-Smith crowd appeared to be doing some lively covering. Smith covered, it is said, quite a line. When the flurry was over very many took profits, and the market at mid-day lost half of its advance. The firm closing cables, the belief that the Senate fight will soon end satisfactory, the firmness of outside markets and the nervousness of shorts all helped, however, to close the wheat market very strong. The price, after opening 4c off, advanced 1c, then eased off 1/4c, fluctuated frequently within a small range, and the closing was about 1/2c higher for December and 1/2c higher for May than yesterday.

attention. The local long interest was credited with enlarging its line. Shippers were buyers on orders from the Eastern markets, as merchants desire to enlarge their supplies before the close of lake navigation. Domestic markets were stronger and Liverpool advices indicated a further adv ace of \( \frac{1}{2} \)d. The receipts were not quite at large as anticipated, and a general impression prevailed that the arrivals during the remainder of the month would exhibit a marked falling off. Prices on the whole range were advanced 1/20%c, and the appreciation was fairly well sustained. Oats were governed to-day by corn. There was a good buying of May by strong parties. Prices advanced %c and closed at nearly

There was more doing in the speculative department of the provision trade and at some improvement in prices. The firmer grain markets and 4,000 more hogs than had been estimated for to-day's receipts were the governing influences. Closing prices show the following changes compared with the last quotations on the preceding day: Pork is from 171/2c to 25c higher, lard .10c and ribs .15c higher. The estimated receipts for to-morrow are: Wheat, 110 cars; corn, 410 cars; oats, 190 cars; hogs, 17,000 head. The offerings of vessel room ready to load were light, the

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 .- The dry-goods market shows a business below an average with conditions in the country at large as to stocks justifying a market more active than usual. But mail orders represent only the pressing necessity of country buyers, and raturning salesmen say that all over the country business waits for Congress to come to its conscience on the silver question. Resident buyers are pursuing the same cautious policy and for much the same reasons. Cotton goods are selling in a moderate way at about former prices. Prints and printed fabrics rule steady, with a fair demand in the aggregate, but with a fair demand in the aggregate, but show some irregularity, assortments being uneven. Printing cloths show no changes, with the tendency, if anything, in buyers' favor. Ginghams and woven fabrics are neglected, and especially of dress goods, with probably a little increase of interest in spring goods. Foreign dry goods have been very quiet outside of the auction sale of silks with prices showing irregularity of silks, with prices showing irregularity and business confined to small local orders. The jobbing trade is rather better with prices ruling steady.

Protest Against Rebellion Day.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: otic sentiment expressed in your editorial of the 19th instant, in regard to confederate day at the world's fair, I want to also enter my solemn protest and condemnation of the managers in their efforts to revive and make treason honorable in parading rebels through the White City as an inducement for the solid South to increase the revenues of the world's fair treasury. It seems the world's fair managers have waited until the last day to insult the ex-Union soldier and the loyal people of the North. Why call it ex-confederate day? If the managers have lost all love, patriotism and respect for the ex-Union soldier, let them call it rebel day, and extend their invitation to the copperheads of the North and all who were disloyal to our starry flag. Let the managers haul down the national flag in the White City and hang up the rebel rag instead, as it will cause more enthusiasm. Yes, give the entire day to these rebels, copperheads and Union soldier haters; let them yell for Jeff Davis and the lost cause. Old Glory would hang its folds in shame to be in such a crowd. Yes, let them have a day to vent their treason; it will instill dis-loyalty into the hearts of our young and make them think that the cause we fought for was a failure. Yes, give these ex-confederates plenty of rope with rebel rags flying and banners unfurled with the patriotic mottoes inscribed thereon in letters of blood, "Andersonville," "Belle Isle," "Libby Hell," etc., with the patriotic names of Wirtz, Winder, Jeff Davis et al. Let them bring their blood-hounds, whose jowls are still dripping with the blood of Union prisoners, mangled and torn. Yes, let these world's fair managers revive treason and the lost cause in all its horrible infamy and torture of our comrades let these ex-confederates bring the sole survivors of the Fort Pillow massacre; our black comrades would like to see them; they would help to draw a crowd. Yes, let these patriotic managers make treason honorable; it will please Hoke Smith and give him new courage, and stimulate him in his noble work of depriving our old disabled comrades of their pittance of pen-

Shame on such low-minded patriotism. How long are the loyal citizens of this great Republic going to tolerate these insults to its survivors of the Union army? I hope there will be a protest against this rebellion day that will be heard from California to Maine and will teach these managers a lesson they will never forget.
WALLACE FOSTER,

Late Captain Thirteenth Ind. Inft'y. Indianapolis, Oct. 19.

Dana's Advice to Journalists. Boston Transcript.

If there is a fault in Mr. Dana's advice, It is in the great stress he lays upon a knowledge of the classics as a qualifica-tion for the knowledge of English. He should have noted such exceptions to the rule as Horace Greeley and Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln's address at Gettysburg could not be improved by a congress of the ac-knowledged masters of the English tongue. Still, journalists cannot know too much; many of them know too little.

When Dana Was Vigorous.

Mr. Dana's lecture on journalism, delivered before a large audience in Union College, was highly interesting and covered five columns. But it lacked the vim and vigor of Mr. Dana's briefer lecture on journalism which he delivered to his bright Baltimore and Other Points.

INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL

DAILY.

SUNDAY

The Journal's price for daily is only 15 cents a week, and it has a very wide circulation, reaching a large number of people hitherto unable to afford the luxury of a first-class daily paper. Reports from agents and subscribers indicate a continued increase, and that what used to be regarded as a luxury has become a necessity. The new readers not only remain, but they are constantly increasing.

It is the purpose of the Journal to make itself even more indispensable to its patrons, new and old, and to still further widen its field. To this endit will not only endeavor to maintain the characteristics which have established its reputation as by far the best newspaper in Indiana, but will add such new features and improvements from time to time as are in accord with journalistic progress and that may tend to the advantage of its readers. It will, for example, give increased attention to State and local interests. What Indianians want is a paper in which Indiana affairs given are especial prominence and importance. This want the Journal has always supplied as no other paper published outside or inside the State is able to do; but the rapidly developing industries and business and social enterprises of the community call for additional consideration and space, With this in view its corps of correspondents has been increased until ithas a representative in nearly every town in the State Special traveling correspondents will visit the news centers of the State at frequent intervals, thus insuring the "write up" of every important event or matter of general interest.

Being published in the geographical center of Indiana the Journal is afforded unusual facilities for securing news promptly, and, what is of greater consequence, is able to reach its subscribers without delay. The running of morning trains from Indianapolis is very favorable to the early distribution of papers sent by mail or express, and ia most towns within a radius of a hundred miles Journals are delivered as early as in the city where they are printed. In the more remote counties there is but little loss of time in transportation. The Journal is the paper for Indianians and particularly for Indiana Republicans. The change of administration involves the settlement of political problems likely to be of the most direct personal concern to every farmer and business man in the State. All such matters will be set forth in detail, the Journal's Washington corre-While I want to thank you for the patri- spondent being instructed to give especial attention to every hing having a possible bearing on Indiana interests.

But though the Journal is Republican in politics it is non-partisan in the publication of news. Its constantendeavor is to secure facts unbiased by prejudice and to make its columns trustworthy records of each day's happenings. A large editorial force supplements the work of the press associations and the correspondents, and furnishes careful supervision for each department.

The Sunday Journal has a well-established literary character, superior to that of any Western paper. It is not defaced by "plate matter" nor filled with a heterogeneous mass of syndicate literature, but its contributions and miscellany are chosen with a view to their special fitness and adaptability to the tastes of the readers. The reading matter in any given number of the Sunday Journal is equal in quantity and is not inferior in quality to that found in the leading magazines. As an educational adjunct and a source of entertainment the Sunday Journal is indispensable in every well-regulated family.

The Weekly Journal, at $1 per year, contains more reading matter than can be obtained for the money in any other shape. It is carefully edited and offer the news of the week in condensed shape and a variety of miscellany. agricultural and household literature that render it one of the best invest ments that any family can make.
